

Your research project: How to manage it

Andy Hunt

CONTENTS

Overview of the book

Chapter 1: You - the project manager

- Your change in role
- The dual role (of Worker and Manager)
- Other roles to avoid

Chapter 2: Personal Time Management

- Reactive time management
- Proactive time management
- Methods of time management
- When to work, and for how long?
- Tools of Time Management
- Paper or Computer

Chapter 3: Your Project's Aims & Objectives

- Selecting a project
- Setting the overall focus
- Techniques for generating ideas
- Title, Aims & Objectives
- Turning Objectives into Tasks
- The Project Proposal

Chapter 4: The Literature Survey

- The importance of setting your work in context
- What has been done?
- Different types of information source
- Learning from other people
- Writing the Literature Survey

Chapter 5: Working towards success

- Project storyboarding
- Criteria for success
- Establishing Key Deliverables
- From Objectives to Work Packages
- Planning Time in your project

Chapter 6: Communicating with others

- Other people have different priorities
- The supervision process
- Structuring your communications
- Different forms of communication
- Asking people for help
- Presenting your ideas to others

Chapter 7: Common Problems

- Getting stuck
- Losing focus
- Losing Motivation
- Someone else has done it already
- Running out of time

Chapter 8: The Final Report

- Report-writing as an ongoing process
- Scoping your writing time
- Contents as a springboard for writing
- Establishing the readership
- House-styles
- Revealing information to the reader
- Appendices
- Submitting electronic information

Chapter 9: The Viva Voce Examination

- Purpose of the viva
- Preparation for the viva
- Presentation time within the viva

Chapter 10: Publishing your results

Why publish?

Should you publish?

Which publication?

Conference publication

Journal and book publication